

Children's fantastic DESIGN-YER NOSES for Comic Relief

Dear Parents and Carers

The KS2 hall has been very busy this week with a number of events going on with lots of parents visiting.

The hall was a buzz of discussion on Tuesday and Wednesday this week as we hosted our Spring term parents' evening appointments. In a change to previous years, we based all teachers in the Upper School Hall. This allowed us to manage the timings of appointments better and also ensure that each appointment ran to time. Anecdotal feedback from parents was positive about the changes to arrangements and allowing parents to come and wait for only ten minutes prior to their own appointment meant that the hall was not too noisy.

All in all, 92% of all appointments were taken, which shows the dedication and commitment from the vast majority of our parent body. We hope that you enjoyed the opportunity to look at your child(ren)'s work and speak with your child's teacher whilst also receiving any provision plans if your child benefits from having one.

Not only did Mrs Cooke and Mrs Aggarwall have parents evening this week, they also scheduled in their sharing assembly this week. The children enjoyed entertaining their parents and carers whilst informing them of their recent learning. What was most pleasing was the way in which children presented with a smile and self-confidence; something that is definitely developing in our Year 3 pupils. Thanks to the whole Year 3 team for organising this and well done again to the children!

Year 6 visited Cox Green school on Wednesday to watch the school's production of The Addams Family.

It was lovely for our staff to see former Wessex pupils taking to the stage to develop further the skills and talents seen whilst at Wessex. Year 6 enjoyed the comedy nature of the production and also seeing a typical morning at a secondary school as part of their transition preparation for September.

Thanks to everyone who either bought a red nose or came to school in red. Altogether we have raised £201 from the Mufti day and a further £240 from Red nose sales which will be donated to Comic Relief. If you are yet to donate, we have set up a Justgiving page.

A couple of reminders:

- Children finish at 1:30pm next Friday as it is the last day of the term.
- There will be no Good News assembly next week.

We hope all of our families who have been celebrating Eid have had a fabulous time with friends and family. We look forward to hearing about it next week.

Mr Beavan

School Values

In assembly this week, we continued our delve into religious festivals that occur around this time. Depending on the moon, Eid was either celebrated yesterday or today bringing an end to the month of Ramadan for Muslims.

Children who are celebrating Eid this week spoke incredibly confidently in assembly on Monday - with little or no prior warning - about how they celebrate and what customs and traditions they follow. Whilst there were variations from one family to another, it is clear that family, togetherness, charity and generosity are themes across these celebrations.
